

A high-quality dental chair, the A-dec 500, is shown in a modern clinical setting. The chair is white with a dark blue upholstered seat and backrest. It features a large, adjustable overhead light arm with multiple light sources. The chair is equipped with various dental instruments, including a handpiece, scaler, and curing light, all mounted on a tray in front of the patient. The background shows a clean, professional environment with white cabinets and a tiled floor.
